Watchlist

From Scratch
loss, grief, cancer, memoir, African American

Extremis
medical decision-making, family dynamics, quality of life

Last Flight Home
medically assisted death, documentary, chronic illness

End Game (2018)
shared decision making, palliative and hospice care, emotional and spiritual considerations

Coco
remembering and honoring ancestors, family support, hispanic, life meaning

The Midnight Club
terminal illness and mortality, autonomy, support, youth, hospice care, caregiving

The Nurse with the Purple Hair patient advocacy, emotional and spiritual support, collaborative decision making

This is Us: This is Care A Conversation family communication, aging and health issues, caregiving and support, autonomy

Being Mortal patient-centered care, communication, shared decision making, palliative and hospice care

The Bucket List
older adult, end of life priorities, support systems, reflection

A Man Called Otto
male perspective, end of life considerations, mental health, social isolation, community

The Farewell (2019)
Chinese-American, cultural differences, family bonds, reflection

Discussion Starters

- What themes, feelings, or thoughts does this video spur in you?
- What moments, characters, or ideas resonated with you while watching?
- Would you have handled the events in the video around advance care the same way? If not, how would you want it to be different?

@Tag us on social - let us know your thoughts!

@NJHCQI | @QualityInstituteNJ
@New Jersey Health Care Quality Institute